

LETTER TO CREDIT UNIONS

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION
1775 Duke Street, Alexandria, VA 22314

DATE: May 1999

LETTER NO.: 99-CU-08

TO: Federally Insured Credit Unions

SUBJ: Year 2000 (Y2K) Check list For Customers

The NCUA, and other Federal Financial Institutions Examination Counsel (FFIEC) Regulatory Agencies¹, have developed the enclosed Y2K Check list for Customers to help them prepare for the century date change.

In short, the Y2K Check list recommends credit union members consider the following suggestions:

- ✓ Find out what their particular credit union is doing to address consumer concerns about Y2K;
- ✓ Keep good records of financial transactions, especially for the last few months of 1999, and until several statements are received in the Year 2000;
- ✓ Check transaction receipts and save them to compare against statements;
- ✓ Identify all payment options available (checks, credit cards, debit cards, ATMs, and tellers) in the event one payment option doesn't work as planned; and
- ✓ Remember the federal government's protection of insured deposits will not be affected by the Year 2000.

I want to encourage all federally insured credit unions to make this check list available to members as part of your Member Awareness Campaign for the Year 2000.

¹ The FFIEC consists of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB), National Credit Union Administration (NCUA), Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC), and the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS).

Procedures for Obtaining Copies of the Check list

Enclosed Check list

- Credit unions may make copies of the enclosed Y2K Check list for Customers to distribute to their members. NCUA does not intend to distribute mass copies of the brochure to credit unions.

Obtaining an Electronic Copy of the Check list

- Credit unions may also download the Y2K Check list for Customers from the NCUA's Internet website, and mass produce copies of the check list, providing no changes are made to its contents, language or otherwise. The brochure is located at: <http://www.ncua.gov/> (select Year 2000, Y2K Check list for Customers).

The FFIEC Agencies issued a Joint Press Release on April 15, 1999, to announce the Y2K Check list for Customers. A copy of this Press Release can be downloaded from the Year 2000 Issues section of our Internet website.

If you have any questions, please contact your examiner, NCUA regional office, or state supervisory authority, in the case of state chartered credit unions.

Sincerely,

A Y2K Checklist for Customers

From the smallest to the largest, federally insured financial institutions have been working hard to make sure their computer systems will operate smoothly in the Year 2000 (Y2K). In addition, federal and state regulators are closely monitoring the progress of institutions they supervise to make sure Y2K issues are being addressed. Despite the best efforts of the industry and the regulators, no one can guarantee that everything will work perfectly. That's why financial institution customers may want to consider taking steps in anticipation of the date change. You can refer to the following checklist to prepare yourself for Y2K.

Educate Yourself About Y2K

Find out what your financial institution is doing to address consumer concerns. If you have questions, speak with a representative who knows about the institution's Y2K program.

Keep Copies of Financial Records

As always, keep good records of your financial transactions, especially for the last few months of 1999 and until you get several statements in 2000.

Pay Attention to Your Finances

As always, balance your checkbook regularly. When you receive a transaction receipt from your institution, check it for accuracy and save it to compare against your statement. It's also smart to review your credit report to make sure it doesn't contain inaccurate information.

Make Prudent Preparations

Remember all your payment options (checks, credit cards, debit cards, ATMs and tellers) in the event that one doesn't work as planned. The Federal Reserve has plans to ensure that there will be sufficient cash available for consumers. If you withdraw money, make reasonable decisions based on solid information; don't put yourself at risk of being robbed or losing valuable interest payments.

Be on Guard Against Y2K Scams

Be skeptical if someone asks for your account information or tries to sell you a product, service or investment that's supposedly Y2K "safe." Protect your personal information, including your bank account, credit card and Social Security numbers.

Review Your Deposit Insurance Coverage

The federal government's protection of insured deposits will not be affected by Y2K. If you have more than $100,000 in an insured bank, thrift or credit union, you may want to make sure you understand the insurance rules. Check with your financial institution or call the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation at 1-800-934-FDIC (for banks and savings institutions) or the National Credit Union Administration at 703-518-6330 (for credit unions).
